

SAGE MASTER BUILDER

Authorized Associate Program

Sage Software wants to help you grow your practice and better serve your construction industry clients. The Sage Master Builder Authorized Associate Program enables you to use Sage Master Builder and access the training, support, and sales resources necessary to confidently use and recommend the product. It's fast and easy to get started—requiring a limited investment of time and money.

Build Your Practice

Expand your ability to offer services to contractors who are increasing the size, complexity, or number of jobs they manage. By combining your industry knowledge with the power of Sage Master Builder's fully integrated construction business management solution, you will be able to provide a comprehensive suite of accounting services and software solutions.

- Attract new clients with your industry knowledge and expertise
- Provide construction-specific outsourced accounting services
- Work with a dedicated sales resource, who will help you identify the clients in your practice that are ready to move to Sage Master Builder.

Your reputation for providing construction-specific expertise and services will help you build your network of business professionals who work with the construction clients you are seeking.

Serve Your Construction Clients Better

As an Authorized Associate, you will be able to deliver the information, reporting, and consulting to help your construction clients succeed. With your expertise and our software, your clients will be able to:

- Maintain a true job costing accounting system
- Create bonding reports from ready-made templates
- Charge equipment to specific jobs
- Manage split-rate workers' compensation, certified and union payroll
- Gain advanced "know how"
- Profitably grow their business

Typical Business Model

Businesses who provide accounting and business consulting to construction industry clients.

Program Features

- Current not-for-resale version of Sage Master Builder software
- All software updates and enhancements
- Toll-free technical support (15 calls/year)
- Free introductory online training
- Dedicated sales support with a local Sage Master Builder Business Partner and/or a Sage Channel Executive
- Free Sage Master Builder product brochures

Software Training

- 11 online classes at no charge
- Additional training available
- Online product demo

About Sage Master Builder

Sage Master Builder software seamlessly integrates estimating, scheduling, accounting, job costing, production, and post-job analysis. It is the right business management solution for contractors and subcontractors with complex and growing construction businesses. All types of construction professionals—including home builders, commercial contractors, remodelers, electricians, plumbers and specialty construction companies—can benefit from the advanced, construction-specific features of Sage Master Builder.

Take the Next Step. Become a Sage Master Builder Authorized Associate Today!

For more information, please contact us at associate.masterbuilder@sage.com.